

National Safe Haven Alliance

September 12, 2016

Ms. Suzanne Hobbs

Dear Suzanne,

The National Safe Haven Alliance (NSHA) is thrilled to learn of your new book, "The Hungry Snake". It is a delightful story and one that I imagine many mothers and fathers will be reading over and over.

We are touched and honored that you have such a personal commitment to helping prevent infant abandonments, and that you are interested in working with us to educate more Americans about the laws that protect infants and the mothers who find themselves unable to care for their newborn.

While NSHA is always pleased to have volunteers like you step forward in support of our mission, our Board of Directors and volunteer staff are so excited that you will be doing so with such an amazing product. The Hungry Snake is so beautifully illustrated, and so captivating, we know it will soon become a great success.

Your generosity will help numerous women in distress make a safe decision for their baby, which will also allow them to move forward with their lives, free from the threat of prosecution, and with the knowledge that they did what was in the best interest of their child. Countless numbers of infants will be safe and secure, in loving families, due to your effort and dedication.

Thank you. We look forward to hearing about your success in the days and weeks to come!

Best regards,

Tracey Johnson
Executive Director
